Hall of Fame

The Innovation Institute for Fan Experience (IIFX) began in 2020 as a collaborative effort between leaders and members of the international sport & entertainment industry.

IIFX has a dual-focus value proposition:

- Provide sports & entertainment industry members with unmatched opportunities to promote the physical, cybersecurity, and safety of their fans, spectators, attendees, communities, and organizations to access a trusted international network of thought leaders, advanced practitioners, and subject matter experts from the public and private sectors.
- Provide government stakeholders at the local, state, and Federal levels with opportunities to collaborate and to provide expertise and experience in support of the industry to ensure safe and secure events

Purpose of Hall of Fame Award

To create an esteemed place of recognition for individuals in the international sports & entertainment industry who have distinguished themselves through singularly exceptional contributions to the industry over a sustained period of time.

Induction occurs at the IIFX Annual FANCENTRIC International Conference & Expo.

The Hall of Fame is memorialized in a virtual setting on the IIFX website.

The Hall of Fame Award recognizes distinguished meritorious service within the international sports & entertainment industry.

The Hall of Fame Award honors people whose dedication and outstanding efforts have significantly contributed above and beyond to the advancement of the industry and the ideals of the IIFX program.

Those nominated for the Hall of Fame Award are people whose contributions have surpassed others in advancing the sports & entertainment industry.

Nominations should include specific examples of initiatives, innovations, leadership, and other efforts in which the individual has demonstrated an important and sustained role towards the advancement of the profession of Sports & Entertainment and the industry.

Nominations are submitted by members of the sports & entertainment industry to IIFX.
